Chriss O, Elijah O, Nathaniel R
DBMS E-R Diagram Description
13 April 2022

Each concert belongs to one venue and many artists. Each concert is sorted by a ticket category and the ticket. A venue is defined by the name, address, city, and capacity. The concert is defined by a and ID, name, and date of the concert. The ticket is also defined by a ticket category and also belongs to one concert.

The artist can have many songs and different genres. The artist is defined by a name and an ID. The songs are defined by a genre and the song belongs to one artist.

There is one order ticket that belongs to one ticket. There is also one customer order that belongs to that order ticket. The customer order belongs to one customer. The customer also has a previous order that belongs to the customer. The customer is defined by a name, email address, username, and password.